DEVELOPS MAN WAS FATHER OF CHARLEROI MERCHANT

Solomon Rosenbloom, Whose Body Was Found in Trunk is Known Here

SON LOUIS A RESIDENT

Left This Morning for East to Attend to Burial

It has developed that the man's body found in a trunk on the outskirts of Camden, N. J. early this week, was that of Solomon J. Rosenbloom of Winber, and the father of Louis Rosenbloom, a prominent merchant of McKean avenue, Charleroi. The identification was made by a former clerk of the aged Mr. Rosenbloom, Henry Friedman, who when he heard of the body being discovered in the trunk, and suspicious from the very meagre description furnished that it might be the body of his former employer left for Camden and identified it by the clothing. Mr. Louis Rosenbloom, of this place had not the slightest thought that the body was that of his parent until this morning when he read an article in a Pittsburgh newspaper concerning the identification by Mr. Friedman. He immediately left for the East where he will learn to his own satisfaction whether or not, the body was that of his father, and if so give it the proper burial.

The last that the elder Rosenbloom was seen in Charleroi was in the month of June, 1907, when he made a short visit with his son and daughter, Mrs. Cohen, who resided here at that time. He had come to Pittsburgh on business and was looking for a place for a few days. He returned to his home in Charleroi with his son and daughter. The next day he was found home with the state of his father had gone to New York.

Days passed and no word was heard from the old man, a search was instituted and a general alarm was given. Mr. Louis Rosenbloom, the son, was not notified. He knew nothing of his father's disappearance until about two weeks later when he noticed an article in a newspaper. November 24 Alexander left home suddenly and has not since been seen. Father and son had frequent quarrels, it is stated. Two days after the young man's disappearance a note, written on a New York nerve specialist's prescription blank was found in the Windber store, which stated that "S. J. Rosenbloom is under my treatment for a serious disease."

A daughter, Mrs. Louis Weller of New Brunswick, N. J., went to the address indicated in New York and found that a young man, answering the description of Alexander had been there a few days before and it was said, impersonated his father in order to obtain the note referred to. Mrs. Weller telephoned to arrest Alexander, but he had already disappeared. When he left Windber he took with him a rope-bound trunk which is said to correspond with the one in which the body of the murdered man was found.

Following the disappearance of the younger Rosenbloom, who is but 20 years old, his relatives met and decided to offer a reward of $500 for any information leading to his whereabouts. Whether they suspected him of doing away with his father is not known. At the time of the old man's disappearance his financial affairs were in good shape and when the clothing store was disposed of sufficient money was realized to more than pay his outstanding debts.

The whereabouts of his wife and daughter, Ella, are not definitely known, although it is thought by some that they are living in a Jewish settlement in East Baltimore avenue, Baltimore, Md., and that if they cared they could tell where the young man is staying.

Louis, a son is a resident of Charleroi, and William another son, is living in Piedmont, W. Va. Two nephews, Louis and Joseph Eingler, who left Johnstown at the same time as did young Rosenbloom, are living at 120 Monroe avenue, New York city.

Stories are told of frequent quarrels between the father and son Alexander and at one time it is said the latter was found in a New York tenement house where the couple were rooming for a time, trying to push his father from a fifth story window. The story is not vouched for although it was known the couple frequently quarrelled. Mr. Solomon Rosenbloom and Louis who lives in Charleroi were said to have gotten along finely together.

The Rosenbloom family here are greatly distressed over the occurrence, as the older man was a favorite here.

COUNTY COURT IS VERY BUSY AT THIS TIME

Joe Paradise an agent of the Independent Brawling Company of Charleroi escaped conviction yesterday at court, but was sentenced to pay the costs. The prosecutor was J. H. Milstead, who represents the Zell brewery as a detective. Joe was the agent for the Charleroi brewery and also for Sam Cohen, a wholesale liquor dealer of Pittsburgh. He was represented by A. M. Templeton. A. G. Braden conducted the prosecution.

Yesterday morning in Judge Taylor's court was taken up with the cases of Frank Minutti and the Delvieses which was begun Thursday. The case went to the jury shortly after noon and no verdict had been returned at the adjournment of court. At the opening of Judge McIlvaine's court Tony Pilligren, of Westland, who was found guilty, was called for sentence. His attorney, A. G. Braden, made an appeal for leniency on behalf of his client, stating that this was his first offense, and asked that he be given a jail sentence. It was a liquor case.

A liquor case which requires two interpreters and consumes a large amount of time is now on before Judge McIlvaine. The parties are all from Donora and are Slavish. Charley Bobinski is the defendant and Andy Ostwick the private prosecutor. Charley is charged with selling without a license and on Sunday.

A case of four beer agents at Westland entered pleas of guilty and were given the minimum sentence each. The defendants were James Shaoun, Joseph Smith, Joe Pilligren and Joe Sarek. The sentence imposed on each was costs, $500 fine and three months imprisonment in the county jail.

CHARLEROI AND COKERS DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER

The Cherubs and the Cokers divided honors yesterday afternoon at the hall park, the first game going to the local and the second to the visitors. It was "Boosters Day" and for the double admission fee, the best in stock was served by the two teams. Although the crowd was not the largest of the season the club realized a pretty good sum from the tickets sold. Quite a number are to be heard from, which will materially boost the amount.

With Mack on the heaving mound and working in first class shape the Cokers never had a look in the first game, five safe ones being the extent of their hitting. Blanchard was the opponent and was touched up for nine safe drives. Charleroi made all their runs in the opening round, and it looked like a slaughter. Nally led with a clean drive and Cosgrove sacrificed. Dunn singled and stole second, putting Nally on third. Dailey was a dead one by popping up a foul fly to Sweeney. When O'Hare got soaked with one there was three on and Tooby proceeded to send off a single and the third run was across the gum. At this stage Blanchard settled down and pitched first class ball during the balance of the game. The Cokers got their two runs on two hits in the third inning. Blanchard walked and Price sent him to third with a two sacker. Montgomery got a life when Blanchard was caught at the plate on his drive, Montgomery taking second on the play. When Ellam singled the two runs were over.

In the second contest which went seven innings, Elmer Cannon and Manager Osborne were the opposing heavies. Arch had everything his way until going bad in the fifth inning. By giving three hits, hitting two batters, and making an error Arch allowed the Cokers to make four runs. Charleroi scored their only run in the third inning on two singles and a stolen base. Score:

LOCAL MEN TO OPEN UP MINE IN WEST VIRGINIA

F. P. McCloskey, the president and general superintendent of the Pittsburgh and Wabash Coal company, with holdings in Virginia, left this week for that place and put a force of men to work to open up a vein of coal there. The holdings of the company are near the state line of Pennsylvania and Virginia and it is thought will prove a very rich seam.

The stock of the Pittsburgh-Wabash company is capitalized at $200,000, and the stockholders are without exception local men. The company was formed about three years and the coal land bordering on the Virginia-Pennsylvania line purchased, but up to this time operations has never been started. The officers of the company are: president, F. P. McCloskey; vice president, Theo. Allen; secretary, H. N. Odert; Messens; treasurer R. L. Biddle, Donors.

To Share a Fortune.

Five Fayette countians, four from Uniontown and one from Smock, it is said stand in line to share a fortune of nearly $50,000,000 in cash and real estate, a part of which is in the United States treasury at Washington. A legal battle has been started to prove their right to share in the distribution. The estate in which they hope to share is that of Joseph Ball, a Revolutionary war hero.

The claimants have been working on the case for some time and are now firm in the belief that they have established their claims sufficiently to secure their share of the property. There are supposed to be about 40 heirs throughout Pennsylvania and the Ohio valley while the value of the property is placed at from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000.

WEBSTER TO EXPERIENCE BOOM IN BUSINESS

Webster is destined to experience a real estate boom in the near future. As soon as the bridge across the river at that place is completed real estate values will be greatly enhanced as many people who work at the Donora mills will seek homes on the opposite side of the river. Several houses are now in course of construction and others are contemplated. When work starts on the new trolley line that is to connect the Monongahela and Youghiogheny valleys, Webster will be benefited probably more than any other section. The little village seems destined to soon spring into prominence.

EXCURSION PACKETS IN MUCH DEMAND

The demand for week-end outings on the rivers has increased to such an extent that local packets and excursion boats are taxed to capacity to meet the requirements. The improved demands for excursion trips has resulted in the steamer Rose Hite, Capt. Ed Herd being placed in commission, and the boat will take out a large party of the Senior Order of American Mechanics this afternoon for a trip from Pittsburgh up the Monongahela river to Roscoe.

American And German Forests.

American forests, according to the experts of the Department of Agriculture, are capable of yielding more wood to the acre, if well handled, than the noted forests of Germany, many of which net their owners from $2.50 to $6.00 or more per acre annually. Not only are our native forests richer in valuable timber trees, but our climate and soil conditions are more favorable. The trouble is not that our trees do not grow fast enough, but that our ignorance and carelessness have left our woodlands poorly stocked.

The German forester sees to it that his forests is uniform and dense. To grow a full crop of wood, as to grow a full crop of grass or corn, there must be a full stand. Next in importance is the rate of growth of the trees. The species most grown are Norway spruce, Scotch pine, and silver fir for soft woods, and beech and oak for hardwoods. In Germany forests of the first quality, Norway spruce attains in 60 years an average diameter of 9.4 inches.

DEED OF FIEND IS CHARGED TO SOMNAMBULIST

The deed of a fiend on Thursday night in Charleroi is charged to a somnambulist, it being stated that a young man of Charleroi, who is a sleepwalker, on that night secured two goats on the hill, a mother and a kid, which he put in the flush tank at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Third street. The animals belonged to John Habram, an Italian living near the mine of the Charleroi Coal Company.

The goats were tethered by a rope and either were loosed or escaped by pulling the stake out which held them. At about 2 o'clock Friday morning Samuel Collins, of Third street and Lincoln avenue heard a strange noise in the rear of his house, but paid no attention to the matter at that time. In the morning it was discovered by him that two goats were at the flush at the street, a young one down in the water dead and the older one on top of the bell. They were fastened by a rope and the latter would soon have been drowned also. Health Officer Darby and Humane Agent Gelder were notified. It was learned by diligent effort of the persons whom the goats belonged and by that established a clue which pointed to an irresponsible man of Charleroi known to be a somnambulist, as the one who committed the deed.

COURT HOUSE IS RANSACKED BY BURGLARS

Washington County is being scourged for robbers who broke into the Courthouse, looted desks, files and cabinets and left a trail of wreckage. A large quantity of stamps and a small amount of money were all the booty secured, but the damage to property and fixtures is heavy.

Sheriff J. C. Murphy was in his office until late at night, and it is believed the robbery was committed between midnight and dawn. Even the private apartments of the District Attorney and Sheriff did not escape the search of the robbers, the Recorder's office being apparently the only one that was not entered.

All outside locks and doors and windows were intact in the morning, and it is thought entrance was gained by means of skeleton or duplicate keys. In the Treasurer's office, where the thieves evidently believed money was kept in some of the desks, jimmies were employed. Many handsome pieces of mahogany were ruined. The authorities incline to the belief that a former "trusty" at the County Jail secured duplicate door keys while at work in the Court house and used one of them in entering the building.

FOREIGNER IS KILLED AT THE CHARLEROI MINES

A Slavic miner was killed in the Charleroi Coal Mines this morning by a fall of slate. The man's head was badly crushed and a number of ribs broken, besides other injuries. The man's body was picked up and taken to the Undertaking rooms of Reeves and Reeves on Fallowfield avenue. An inquest will be held later.

The accident happened at about 11 o'clock, heavy slate in some way becoming loosened from the roof of the pit where the man was working and before he could have the least possible chance to escape, was caught and instantly killed.

School Will Start.

Within a few days the schools over the country will start for the 1908-09 term, and millions of children will be seen wending their way towards the places of learning every morning to take up the day's burden. The teachers are now returning home from their vacations at seaside and country resorts and preparing to take up the work which devolves upon them, while their pupils are some eagerly, others with dread awaiting the time when they shall be required to turn to their studies. The boys must leave the old swimming hole and the girl her play house and dolls to take up the much more strenuous duties of learning the eccentricities of short and long division and the various rules which men have perfected for the correct use of the English language.

However much the young folks
dread the approach of the first day, they must remember it is for their own good and not for anyone's else
that they are required to exert themselves in an effort to learn. It is only by applying oneself when young that success is ever gained and then only by diligent and lasting effort.

Taft Opens Campaign.

W. H. Taft the Republican nominee for president of the United States
opened his campaign at Hot Springs, Virginia, yesterday, when he addressed the Republicans of Virginia. An immense assemblage was present, the railroad service in the morning proving inadequate in the handling of the crowds which were anxious to be present.

Mr. Taft in his address made a strong appeal to the South, and urged the people to break away from the Democratic columns. To this end he produced points which were most convincing.

It is too bad that the Mayor of Monongahela vetoed the right of way ordinance for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to lay their water main through the city. The city councils will have another session at it, however, and may eventually pass the ordinance over his veto. The mayor is not stated as having given any good reason for his action, only just the remark that he did not believe in giving the railroad everything. Evidently he forgets that in the bargain,
the city of which he is the chief executive will be greatly benefited in case the right of way is granted, for the company promised to install a matter of some twenty fire plugs at various places along its line and give free water service at fires. Not only that, but there is little doubt that they would open up their mains and establish a place where the residents could partake free of pure, cool mountain water. Charleroi did not delay long in granting the right of way and is no the least bit sorry.

The Monessen Independent congratulates Monessen on having a water plant which furnishes the pure and undiluted article, that to drink really quenches thirst, and does not make one dream of fuzzy-wuzzy bugs crawling around some where in your interior getting the lay of the land so that they can start something. Well if Monessen really has water service with which it can find no fault the residents certainly have a right to feel proud.

There are two ways of spending a dollar. You can spend it at home and gain an easy conscience, make another friend and perhaps get the dollar back tomorrow, or you send it away, feel that you have sinned, offend the home merchants and forever lose the dollar and the blessed influence for good to yourself and neighbors.

Cazonsburg, an old town, is getting all worked up over the possibility of getting the Pennsylvania Railroad to establish a passenger station there.
The boss of all the excitement is the Notes. It also has succeeded in discovering that the place needs a hotel.

Bryan's Sweet Singer

While the treasurer of the democratic party listens to the jingle of the dimes and dollars he composes lyrics.
It is said that he is depended upon by the candidate to supply him with plaintive melodies guaranteed to reach and to teach the masses. When the dollars are not running in such a stream as to distract the treasurer he gets en-rapport with the muse of melody and then from his quarters come enchanting strains. Those about his locality are caught with the sweet pleas for the support of the twice-tried and three-times willing Willie.

The newspaper men have their souls tuned to the enchanting strains, as they are the "dog" on which the songs of the inspired minstrel of the redoubtable nominee are tried. Mr.
Bryan has the full paraphernalia of a touring candidate in search of a job.
His one-night stands will be unliv-
ed by the dulcet strains of the song that tells of his weariless wandering toward the white house. There is no doubt about Mr. Bryan's ability to secure cheap attractions from dollar dinners to dime dities.—Baltimore American.

Kansas a Senatorial Graveyard.

By the defeat of Chester I. Long at the primaries Kansas consigns one more of its senators to its political graveyard. During the last forty years ill fortune in one shape or another has pursued the office which Long must soon vacate.

In 1865 James Henry Lane, after a stormy career, was elected senator from Kansas, only the next year to be stricken with paralysis and to die a suicide's death. Edmund G. Ross foretold when he voted against the impeachment of President Johnson that he was digging his political grave. The prediction was realized.
He was virtually starved out of Kansas and last year died in New Mexico.
Senator Pomeroy failed for the election because of charges of bribery.

Later came the brilliant ingalls,
who after serving three terms was swamped in the ideal wave of populism that swept over Kansas in the early nineties. Pfeffer the populist, succeeded him, lasted one term and was retired to obscurity, where he still survives. Later came Senator Burton as a republican, who while in office was indicted for practicing before the executive department and served a term in jail.

No suspicion of dishonesty is levelled against Senator Long, but Kansas being again under the influence of radicalism, waits Bristow
in his place.—New York World.

Southern white men who take the law into their hands do not go to the extremes which have characterized the outbreak in the capital of Illinois.
They do not, except in the case of Atlanta, wreak vengeance indiscrimi-nately upon the guilty and the innocent black. They do not terrorize the city for forty-eight hours and degenerate into a pillaging, destroying mob. They act outside of the law, it is true. But they go about their law-breaking systematically and in the spirit of men who are defending their homes from the worst type of criminal. They do not lynch an oc-casionary negro, as the mob did in Springfield, merely from the love of killing—the blood lust.

Hereafter let the virtuous northern journalists who so dearly love to lecture the southern people about the wickedness of lynch law, reserve
their homilies for application at home.
The Springfield outbreak demonstrated that politics and sectionalism have no
such cases as this.—Baltimore Sun.

The food control officials of the states, gathered in humble imitation of the "House of Governors" at Maci-nac Island, Mich., have put Dr. Harvey Washington Wiley in an excellent frame of mind. The federal food law does not altogether suit the chief of the bureau of chemistry. The state officials have resolved that it be "almost entirely redrafted into a model law" for adoption by the states and ultimately by congress and that it shall explicitly prohibit the use of chemical preservatives.

In appointing a joint standards committee of the states, pledged to this sentiment, Dr. Wiley anticipates the findings of the eminent board of experts which the president saw fit to appoint over his head. But why shouldn't he? He has not his "poison squad" demonstrated to his satisfaction that a "model" law is needed to bar preservatives? There is a fair prospect, too, that all save the fruit-producers' states fronting the Pacific will agree with him.—New York Times.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living
you are making now, and place
the difference in this bank.

All Tired Of Hundrds More in Charleroi In the Same Plight

All on account of the kidneys.

George V. Brady, Jeweler, living at says: "I suffered with disorders of the kidneys for several years. Constant heavy pains and severe twinges through my back kept me in misery. I was very weak and subject to attacks of dizziness. I was unable to rest comfortably in any position. I was also caused much annoyance and embarrassment on account of the irregularity of the kidney secretions. I used many remedies but obtained little relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills.

This remedy acted promptly and effectively and gave me more relief than I hoped for. I gave a statement for publication some years ago telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, and since then I have had occasion to use remedy on one or two occasions and always with the same satisfactory results."

THE SPORTING WORLD

Thomas Playing Star Game.
Baseball fans are beginning to wonder how Billy Murray managed to allow Roy Thomas to get away from the Philadelphia Nationals without so much as a peep. Roy is hitting the ball hard and often and playing a sensational fielding game since he became a member of the Pittsburghs. Perhaps there is such a thing as a player being too long with one team. Thomas was a member of the Phillies for over ten years. He was for several years one of the leading right fielders in the National league, but last year he fell off woefully in both his batting and fielding, and many thought he was all in. Early this season he was released and was immediately signed by the Pirates.

Kelley May Manage Yankees.
Will Mike Kelley succeed Kid Elberfeld as manager of the New York Americans at the end of the present season? A well known baseball man says he will and that he would be given the job immediately if he was not tied up by contract with the Toronto club of the Eastern league. President Farrell of the New York club has always been a warm friend of the recalcitrant Mike and would like nothing better than to get him for manager of the Yankees. At least that is what the person on the inside says. Kelley has not been setting the Eastern league afire this season, but Farrell thinks that he has all the qualifications of a successful leader and is willing to take a chance.

Chicago Americans' New Outfielder.
Walter Matticks, Pueblo's fast outfielder and the sensation in the Western league this year, has been sold to Charles A. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans. The price paid is $2,500. Matticks to be delivered on Sept. 14. Besides being a great outfielder, Matticks is hitting over .300 and has one of the greatest arms ever seen, cutting off runs at the plate from center field being an almost daily feature with him. Matticks is a St. Louis boy and played in the Iowa league last season. He is young, but big and strong.

New Race Track at Windsor.
A large force of men is now at work constructing a race track and grand stand at Windsor, across the river from Detroit. The plant is to be used by those northern circuit strings whose owners are not able to send their horses to California, which will be the only field open to them next winter, now that New Orleans has been closed. Joseph James, the millionaire pool room man of Windsor, is backing the project and has received assurances which leave him to expect there will be at least 500 horses on hand for the racing.

To Switch Sporting Seasons.
A movement is being started by letters to the English press to change the months of the football and cricket seasons. Year after year the month of May is cold and wet, and it is therefore proposed to start the cricket season in June and run on to the end of September. The football season begins in September, which is a hot month in the old country, and ends in April. It is rumored that the M. C. C. and football associations will come together and make a swap of the two months.

Scullers Arrange Race.
George Towns, the Australian champion, and Ernest Barrie, the English title holder, have agreed to row a straightaway race over the championship course in the Thames for a side bet of $1,000, the championship of England and the Sportsman Challenge cup. The race will be rowed between Putney bridge and the ship at Mortlake on Oct. 12.

Berrien, Navy's Head Coach.
Lieutenant Frank D. Berrien will act as head coach of the Naval academy football team next season, succeeding Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Beeres. If it is possible to obtain the orders of the department for him to be stationed at Annapolis. Ensign Douglas L. Howard, captain of the team of 1906, will be field coach.

New Baseball League Spreading.
The new International Baseball league, which includes cities in Canada and the United States, is getting stronger every day. There is a report out that the league will invade Buffalo next year and will give the Eastern league a little fight.

Dahlen Playing Star Game.
Bill Dahlen is prospering with the Boston Americans. He is clotting away at better than .280 and is playing a magnificent game in the field.

YOUNG FOLKS ENTERTAINED AT TURNER HALL

A swimming party was held at the Turn Verein hall last evening, ten couple of young people attending and having a time in the water. The swimming hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with greens and Chinese lanterns. After spending a few pleasant hours in the water the young folks adjourned to the dining room where a luncheon had been prepared by the club. The affair was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heuple.

The Turn Verein society under the presidency of W. A. Miksch is one of Charleroi's foremost societies. The club house is a very valuable piece of property, finely fitted up throughout. The swimming pool, a recent addition is proving very popular. There are few club houses along the valley which have a pool so well regulated as that owned by the Turners.

Opportunity to Hear Rare Instrument.

Charleroi people will have the opportunity Sunday of hearing a rare old Landolfi violin, a very valuable instrument, at the M. E. church. The instrument is the property of Mr. Emory Porterfield, formerly of Charleroi but now of Toledo, Ohio. It is one of a very few of the Landolfi instruments throughout the United States and is valued at about one thousand dollars. Mr. Porterfield has been studying music under a foremost master of Toledo.

Will Coulson Make Good?

There is little doubt that "Bob" Coulson, the outfielder whom Charleroi sold recently to Cincinnati will make good as the clippings from two Cincinnati papers will testify. His picture was shown in one and the other published a cartoon of him.

Bob Coulson, who was tried by Manager Ganzel in one or two games in the East, made his first appearance before a local audience at Wedeman Park on Wednesday. Coulson is a husky chap, fast on his feet, full of ginger and with a good position at bat. He covered a lot of ground on hits into his territory and made one pretty throw from deep center to first base, completing a double play. Coulson will be given a further trial by the Reds before his future is finally decided upon.—Cincinnati Times.

Coulson's hitting was pretty sweet. The lad's three bagger was a ferocious drive over Hummel's head. Coulson is batting .400 in the two games he has played. Coulson took Johnny Kane's place in the center and inhabited plenty of the little fellow's ginger. He hit tremendously, ran bases well and fielded nicely. He looks like a good boy to have around.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The many accidents on railroads resulting from walking on the tracks, prompts the Scranton Times to say that "scarcely a day passes that the local newspapers do not report the death or serious injury of one or more persons while walking railroad tracks. Notwithstanding the slaughter, the many warnings, and the full knowledge of the danger, people will walk the tracks. The indifference of the law makers in not passing more restrictive measures and the railroad authorities in not enforcing the present laws is shameful. Arrests with fine or imprisonment for trespass on railroad property would soon put an end to the slaughter in question. Germany shows what can be done in the matter."

DEVELOPS MAN WAS FATHER OF CHARLEROI MERCHANT

Solomon Rosenbloom, Whose Body Was Found in Trunk is Known Here

SON LOUIS A RESIDENT

Left This Morning for East to Attend to Burial

It has developed that the man's body found in a trunk on the outskirts of Camden, N. J. early this week, was that of Solomon J. Rosenbloom of Winther, and the father of Louis Rosenbloom, a prominent merchant of McKean avenue, Charleroi. The identification was made by a former clerk of the aged Mr. Rosenbloom, Henry Friedman, who when he heard of the body being discovered in the trunk, and suspicious from the very meagre description furnished that it might be the body of his former employer left for Camden and identified it by the clothing. Mr. Louis Rosenbloom, of this place had not the slightest thought that the body was that of his parent until this morning when he read an article in a Pittsburgh newspaper concerning the identification by Mr. Friedman. He immediately left for the East where he will learn to his own satisfaction whether or not, the body was that of his father, and if so give it the proper burial.

The last that the elder Rosenbloom was seen in Charleroi was in the month of June, 1907, when he made a short visit with his son and daughter, Mrs. Cohen, who resided here at that time. He had come to Pittsburgh on business and was looking for goods for the store he was to place for a few days near Johnstown.

With his disappearance, he was not seen. The next day he was found home with the state of his father had gone to New Jersey. Days passed and no word was heard from the old man, a search was instituted and a general alarm was given. Mr. Louis Rosenbloom, the son, knew nothing of his father's disappearance until about two weeks later when he noticed an article in a newspaper. November 24 Alexander left home suddenly and has not since been seen. Father and son had frequent quarrels, it is stated. Two days after the young man's disappearance a note, written on a New York nerve specialist's prescription blank was found in the Windber store, which stated that "S. J. Rosenbloom is under my treatment for a serious disease."

A daughter, Mrs. Louis Weller of New Brunswick, N. J., went to the address indicated in New York and found that a young man, answering the description of Alexander had been there a few days before and it was said impersonated his father in order to obtain the note referred to. Mrs. Weller telephoned to arrest Alexander, but he had already disappeared. When he left Windber he took with him a rope-bound trunk which is said to correspond with the one in which the body of the murdered man was found.

Following the disappearance of the younger Rosenbloom, who is but 20 years old, his relatives met and decided to offer a reward of $500 for any information leading to his whereabouts. Whether they suspected him of doing away with his father is not known. At the time of the old man's disappearance his financial affairs were in good shape and when the clothing store was disposed of sufficient money was realized to more than pay his outstanding debts.

The whereabouts of his wife and children are not known, although it is thought by some that they are living in a Jewish settlement in East Baltimore avenue, Baltimore, Md., and that if they cared they could tell where the young man is staying.

Louis, a son is a resident of Charleroi, and William another son is living in Piedmont, W. Va. Two nephews, Louis and Joseph Fingler, who left Johnstown at the same time as did young Rosenbloom, are living at 120 Monroe avenue, New York city. Stories are told of frequent quarrels between the father and son Alexander and at one time it is said the latter was found in a New York tenement house where the couple were rooming for a time, trying to push his father from a fifth story window. The story is not vouched for although it was known the couple frequently quarrelled. Mr. Solomon Rosenbloom and Louis who lives in Charleroi were said to have gotten along finely together.

The Rosenbloom family here are greatly distressed over the occurrence, as the older man was a favorite here.

COUNTY COURT IS VERY BUSY AT THIS TIME

Joe Paradise an agent of the Independent Brewing Company of Charleroi escaped conviction yesterday at court, but was sentenced to pay the costs. The prosecutor was J. H. Milstead, who represents the Zelt brewery as a detective. Joe was the agent for the Charleroi brewery and also for Sam Cohen, a wholesale liquor dealer of Pittsburgh. He was represented by A. M. Templeton. A. G. Braden conducted the prosecution. Yesterday morning in Judge Taylor's court was taken up with the cases of Frank Minutti and the Delavieses which was begun Thursday. The case went to the jury shortly after noon and no verdict had been returned at the adjournment of court.

At the opening of Judge McIlvaine's court Tony Pillgren, of Westland, who was found guilty, was called for sentence. His attorney, A. G. Braden, made an appeal for leniency on behalf of his client, stating that this was his first offense, and asked that he be given a jail sentence. It was a liquor case.

A liquor case which requires two interpreters and consumes a large amount of time is now on before Judge McIlvaine. The parties are all from Donora and are Slavish. Charley Bobinski is the defendant and Andy Ostwick the private prosecutor. Charley is charged with selling without a license and on Sunday.

A case of four beer agents at Westland entered pleas of guilty and were given the minimum sentence each. The defendants were James Shannon, Joseph Smith, Joe Pillgren and Joe Sarek. The sentence imposed on each was costs, $500 fine and three months imprisonment in the county jail.

CHARLEROI AND COKERS DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER

The Cherubs and the Cokers divided honors yesterday afternoon at the hall game, the first game going to the local and the second to the visitors. It was "Boosters Day" and for the double admission fee, the best in stock was served by the two teams. Although the crowd was not the largest of the season the club realized a profit.

Quite a number are to be heard from, which will materially boost the amount. With Mack on the heaving mound and working in first class shape the Cokers never had a look in the first game, five safe ones being the extent of their hitting. Blanchard was the opponent and was touched up for nine safe drives. Charleroi made all their runs in the opening round, and it looked like a slaughter. Nally led with a clean drive and Cosgrove sacrificed. Dunn singled and stole second, putting Nally on third. Dailey was a dead one by popping up a foul fly to Sweeney. When O'Hare got soaked with one there was three on and Toohy proceeded to send off a single and the third run was across the gum. At this stage Blanchard settled down and pitched first class ball during the balance of the game. The Cokers got their two runs on two hits in the third inning. Blanchard walked and Price sent him to third with a two sacker. Montgomery got a life when Blanchard was caught at the plate on his drive, Montgomery taking second on the play. When Eliam singled the two runs were over.

In the second contest which went seven innings, Elmer Cannon and Manager Osborne were the opposing heavies. Arch had everything his way until going bad in the fifth inning. By giving three hits, hitting two batters, and making an error Arch allowed the Cokers to make four runs. Charleroi scored their only run in the third inning on two singles and a stolen base. Score:

F. P. McCloskey, the president and general superintendent of the Pittsburgh and Wabash Coal company, with holdings in Virginia, left this week for that place and put a force of men to work to open up a vein of coal there. The holdings of the company are near the state line of Pennsylvania and Virginia and it is thought

The stock of the Pittsburgh-Wabash company is capitalized at $200,000, and the stockholders are without exception local men. The company was formed about three years and the coal land bordering on the Virginia-Pennsylvania line purchased, but up to this time operations have never been started. The officers of the company are: president, F. P. McCloskey; vice president, Theo. Allen; secretary, H. N. Odert, Monessen; treasurer R. L. Biddle, Donora.

To Share a Fortune.

Five Fayette countians, four from Uniontown and one from Smock, it is said stand in line to share a fortune of nearly $50,000,000 in cash and real estate, a part of which is in the United States treasury at Washington. A legal battle has been started to prove their right to share in the distribution. The estate in which they hope to share is that of Joseph Ball, a Revolutionary war hero. The claimants have been working on the case for some time and are now firm in the belief that they have established their claims sufficiently to secure their share of the property. There are supposed to be about 40 heirs throughout Pennsylvania and the Ohio valley while the value of the property is placed at from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000.

WEBSTER TO EXPERIENCE BOOM IN BUSINESS

Webster is destined to experience a real estate boom in the near future. As soon as the bridge across the river at that place is completed real estate values will be greatly enhanced as many people who work at the Donora mills will seek homes on the opposite side of the river. Several houses are now in course of construction and others are contemplated. When work starts on the new trolley line that is to connect the Monongahela and Youghiogheny valleys, Webster will be benefited probably more than any other section. The little village seems destined to soon spring into prominence.

EXCURSION PACKETS IN MUCH DEMAND

The demand for week-end outings on the rivers has increased to such an extent that local packets and excursion boats are taxed to capacity to meet the requirements. The improved demands for excursion trips has resulted in the steamer Rose Hite, Capt. Ed Herd being placed in commission, and the boat will take out a large party of the Senior Order of American Mechanics this afternoon for a trip from Pittsburgh on the Monongahela river to Roscoe.

American And German Forests.

American forests, according to the experts of the Department of Agriculture, are capable of yielding more wood to the acre, if well handled, than the noted forests of Germany. Many of which net their owners from $2.50 to $5.00 or more per acre annually. Not only are our native forests richer in valuable timber trees, but our climate and soil conditions are more favorable. The trouble is not that our trees do not grow fast enough, but that our ignorance and carelessness have left our woodlands poorly stocked. The German forester sees to it that his forests are uniform and dense. To grow a full crop of wood, as to grow a full crop of grass or corn, there must be a full stand. Next in importance is the rate of growth of the trees. The species most grown are Norway spruce, Scotch pine, and silver fir for soft woods, and beech and oak for hardwoods. In Germany forests of the first quality, Norway spruce attains in 60 years an average diameter of 2.4 inches.

DEED OF FIEND IS CHARGED TO SOMNAMBULIST

The deed of a fiend on Thursday night in Charleroi is charged to a somnambulist, it being stated that a young man of Charleroi, who is a sleepwalker, on that night secured two goats on the hill, a mother and a kid, which he put in the flush tank at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Third street. The animals belonged near the mine of the Charleroi Coal Company. The goats were tethered by a rope and either were loosed or escaped by pulling the stake out which held them. At about 2 o'clock Friday morning Samuel Collins, of Third street and Lincoln avenue heard a strange noise in the rear of his house, but paid no attention to the matter at that time. In the morning it was discovered by him that two goats were at the flush at the street, a young one down in the water dead and the older one on top of the bell. They were fastened by a rope and the latter would soon have been drowned also. Health Officer Darby and Humane Agent Gelder were notified. It was learned by diligent effort of the persons whom the goats belonged and by that established a clue which pointed to an irresponsible man of Charleroi known to be a somnambulist, as the one who committed the deed.

Washington County is being scourged by robbers who broke into the Courthouse, looted desks, files and cabinets and left a trail of wreckage. A large quantity of stamps and a small amount of money were all the booty secured, but the damage to property and fixtures is heavy.

Sheriff J. C. Murphy was in his office until late at night, and it is believed the robbery was committed between midnight and dawn. Even the private apartments of the District Attorney and Sheriff did not escape the search of the robbers. The Recorder's office being apparently the only one that was not entered.

All outside locks and doors and windows were intact in the morning, and it is thought entrance was gained by means of skeleton or duplicate keys. In the Treasurer's office, where the thieves evidently believed money was kept in some of the desks, jimmies were employed. Many handsome pieces of mahogany were ruined. The authorities incline to the belief that a former "trusty" at the County Jail secured duplicate door keys while at work in the Court house and used one of them in entering the building.

FOREIGNER IS KILLED AT THE CHARLEROI MINES

A Slavic miner was killed in the Charleroi Coal Mines this morning by a fall of slate. The man's head was badly crushed and a number of ribs broken, besides other injuries. The man's body was picked up and taken to the Undertaking rooms of Reeves and Reeves on Fallowfield avenue. An inquest will be held

The accident happened at about 11 o'clock, heavy slate in some way becoming loosened from the roof of the pit where the man was working and before he could have the least possible chance to escape, was caught and instantly killed.

School Will Start.

Within a few days the schools over the country will start for the 1908-09 term, and millions of children will be seen wending their way towards the places of learning every morning to take up the day's burden. The teachers are now returning home from their vacations at seaside and country resorts and preparing to take up the work which devolves upon them, while their pupils are some eagerly, others with dread awaiting the time when they shall be required to turn to their studies. The boys must leave the old swimming hole and the girl her play house and dolls to take up the much more strenuous duties of learning the eccentricities of short and long division and the various rules which men have perfected for the correct use of the English language.

However much the young folks dread the approach of the first day, they must remember it is for their own good and not for anyone's else that they are required to exert themselves in an effort to learn. It is only by applying oneself when young that success is ever gained and then only by diligent and lasting effort.

Taft Opens Campaign.

W. H. Taft the Republican nominee for president of the United States opened his campaign at Hot Springs, Virginia, yesterday, when he addressed the Republicans of Virginia. An immense assemblage was present, the railroad service in the morning proving inadequate in the handling of the crowds which were anxious to be present.

Mr. Taft in his address made a strong appeal to the South, and urged the people to break away from the Democratic columns. To this end he produced points which were most convincing.

It is too bad that the Mayor of Monongahela vetoed the right of way ordinance for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to lay their water main through the city. The city councils will have another session at it, however, and may eventually pass the ordinance over his veto. The mayor is not stated as having given any good reason for his action, only just the remark that he did not believe in giving the railroad everything. Evidently he forgets that in the bargain, the city of which he is the chief executive will be greatly benefitted in case the right of way is granted, for the matter of some twenty five plugs at various places along its line and give free water service at fires. Not only that, but there is little doubt that they would open up their mains and establish a place where the residents could partake free of pure, cool mountain water. Charleroi did not delay long in granting the right of way and is no the least bit sorry.

The Monessen Independent congratulates Monessen on having a water plant which furnishes the pure and undiluted article, that to drink really quenches thirst, and does not make one dream of fuzzy-wuzzy bugs crawling around some where in your interior getting the lay of the land so that they can start something. Well if Monessen really has water service with which it can find no fault the residents certainly have a right to feel proud.

There are two ways of spending a dollar. You can spend it at home and gain an easy conscience, make another friend and perhaps get the dollar back tomorrow, or you send it away, feel that you have sinned, offend the home merchants and forever lose the dollar and the blessed influence for good to yourself and neighbors.

Caronsburg, an old town, is getting all worked up over the possibility of getting the Pennsylvania Railroad to establish a passenger station there. The boss of all the excitement is the Notes. It also has succeeded in discovering that the place needs a hotel.

Bryan's Sweet Singer.

While the treasurer of the democratic party listens to the jingle of the dimes and dollars he commences lyrics.

It is said that he is depended upon by the candidate to supply him with plaintive melodies guaranteed to reach and to teach the masses. When the dollars are not running in such a stream as to distract the treasurer he gets en-rapport with the muse of melody and then from his quarters come enchanting strains. Those about his locality are caught with the sweet pleas for the support of the twice-tried and three-times willing Willie.

The newspaper men have their souls tuned to the enchanting strains, as they are the "dog" on which the songs of the inspired minstrel of the redoubtable nominee are tried. Mr. Bryan has the full paraphernalia of a touring candidate in search of a job. His one-night stands will be enlivened by the dulcet strains of the song that tells of his weariless wandering toward the white house. There is to secure cheap attractions from dollar dinners to dime ditties.—Baltimore American.

Kansas a Senatorial Graveyard.

By the defeat of Chester I. Long at the primaries Kansas consigns one more of its senators to its political graveyard. During the last forty years 111 senators in one shape or another has pursued the office which Long must soon vacate.

In 1865 James Henry Lane, after a stormy career, was elected senator from Kansas, only the next year to be stricken with paralysis and to die a suicide's death. Edmund G. Ross, foretold when he voted against the impeachment of President Johnson that he was digging his political grave. The prediction was realized. He was virtually starved out of Kansas and last year died in New Mexico. Senator Pomeroy failed for the election because of charges of bribery.

Later came the brilliant Ingalls, who after serving three terms was swamped in the tidal wave of populism that swept over Kansas in the early nineties. Pfeiffer the populist, succeeded him, lasted one term and was retired to obscurity, where he still survives. Later came Senator Burton as a republican, who while in office was indicted for practicing before the executive department and served a term in jail.

No suspicion of dishonesty is levelled against Senator Long, but Kansas being again under the influence of radicalism, wants Bristow in his place.—New York World.

Southern white men who take the law into their hands do not go to the extremes which have characterized the outbreak in the capital of Illinois. They do not, except in the case of Atlanta, wreak vengeance indiscriminately upon the guilty and the innocent black. They do not terrorize the city for forty-eight hours and degenerate into a pillaging, destroying mob. They get outside of the law, it is true. But they go about their law-breaking systematically and in the spirit of men who are defending their homes from the worst type of criminal. They do not lynch an octogenarian negro, as the mob did in Springfield, merely from the love of killing—the blood lust.

Hereafter let the virtuous northern journalists who so dearly love to lecture the southern people about the wickedness of lynch law, reserve their homilies for application at home. The Springfield outbreak demonstrated that politics and sectionalism have no such cases as this.—Baltimore Sun.

The food control officials of the states, gathered in hurble imitation of the "House of Governors" at Macinac Island, Mich., have put Dr. Harvey Washington Wiley in an excellent frame of mind. The federal food law does not altogether suit the chief of the bureau of chemistry. The state officials have resolved that it be "almost entirely redrafted into a model law" for adoption by the states and ultimately by congress and that it shall explicitly prohibit the use of chemical preservatives.

In appointing a joint standards committee of the states, pledged to this sentiment, Dr. Wiley anticipates the findings of the eminent board of experts which the president saw fit to appoint over his head. But why shouldn't he? He has not his "poison squad" demonstrated to his satisfaction that a "model" law is needed to bar preservatives? There is a fair prospect, too, that all save the fruit-producers' states fronting the Pacific will agree with him.—New York Times.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

All Tired Out

Hundreds More in Charleroi

In the Same Plight

Tired all the time:
 Weary and worn out night and day;
 Back aches; side aches;
 All on account of the kidneys.

Must help them at their work.
 George V. Brady, Jeweler, living at 125 Baltimore Ave., Washington, Pa., says: "I suffered with disorders of the kidneys for several years. Constant heavy pains and severe twinges through my back kept me in misery. I was very weak and subject to attacks of dizziness. I was unable to rest comfortably in any position. I was also caused much annoyance and embarrassment on account of the irregularity of the kidney secretions. I used many remedies but obtained little relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy acted promptly and effectively and gave me more relief than I hoped for. I gave a statement for publication some years ago telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, and since then I have had occasion to use remedy on one or two occasions and always with the same satisfactory results."

IN SPORTING WORLD

Thomas Playing Star Game.
Baseball fans are beginning to wonder how Billy Murray managed to allow Roy Thomas to get away from the Philadelphia Nationals without so much as a playmate. Roy is hitting the ball hard and often and playing a sensational fielding game since he became a member of the Pittsburghs. Perhaps there is such a thing as a

ROY THOMAS, RIGHT FIELDER OF THE PITTSBURGH NATIONALS.

Thomas was a member of the Phillies for over ten years. He was for several years one of the leading right fielders in the National league, but last year he fell off woefully in both his batting and fielding, and many thought he was all in. Early this season he was released and was immediately signed by the Pirates.

Kelley May Manage Yankees.
Will Mike Kelley succeed Kid Elberfeld as manager of the New York Americans at the end of the present season? A well known baseball man says he will and that he would be given the job immediately if he was not tied up by contract with the Toronto club of the Eastern league. President Farrell of the New York club has always been a warm friend of the recalcitrant Mike and would like nothing better than to get him for manager of the Yankees. At least that is what the person on the inside says. Kelley has not been setting the Eastern league alight this season, but Farrell thinks that he has all the qualifications of a successful leader and is willing to take a chance.

Chicago Americans' New Outfielder.
Walter Marticks, Detroit's fast outfielder and the sensation in the Western league this year, has been sold to Charles A. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans. The price paid is $2,500. Marticks to be delivered on Sept. 12. Besides being a great outfielder, Marticks is hitting over .300 and has one of the greatest arms ever seen, cutting off runs at the plate from center field being an almost daily feature with him. Marticks is a St. Louis boy and played in the Iowa league last season. He is young, but big and strong.

New Race Track at Windsor.
A large force of men is now at work constructing a race track and grand stand at Windsor, across the river from Detroit. The plan is to be used by those northern circuit strings whose owners are not able to send their horses to California, which will be the only field open to them next winter, now that New Orleans has been closed. Joseph James, the millionaire pool room man of Windsor, is backing the project and has received assurances which leave him to expect there will be at least 500 horses on hand for the racing.

To Switch Sporting Seasons.
A movement is being started by letters to the English press to change the months of the football and cricket seasons. Year after year the month of May is cold and wet, and it is therefore proposed to start the cricket season in June and run on to the end of September. The football season begins in September, which is a hot month in the old country, and ends in April. It is rumored that the M. C. C. and football associations will come together and make a swap of the two months.

Scullers Arrange Race.
George Towns, the Australian champion, and Ernest Barrie, the English title holder, have agreed to row a straightaway race over the championship course in the Thames for a side bet of $1,000, the championship of England and the Sportsman Challenge cup. The race will be rowed between Putney bridge and the ship at Mortlake on Oct. 12.

Barrien, Navy's Head Coach.
Lieutenant Frank D. Barrien will act as head coach of the Naval academy football team next season, succeeding Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Reeves. If it is possible to obtain the orders of the department for him to be stationed at Annapolis, Ensign Douglas L. Howard, captain of the team of 1909, will be field coach.

New Baseball League Spreading.
The new International Baseball league, which includes cities in Canada and the United States, is getting stronger every day. There is a report out that the league will invade Buffalo next year and will give the Eastern league a little fight.

Dahlen Playing Star Game.
Bill Dahlen is prospering with the Boston Americans. He is clotting away at better than .280 and is playing a magnificent game in the field.

YOUNG FOLKS ENTERTAINED AT TURNER HALL

A swimming party was held at the Turn Verein hall last evening, ten couple of young people attending and having a time in the water. The swimming hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with greens and Chinese lanterns. After spending a few pleasant hours in the water the young folks adjourned to the dining room where a luncheon had been prepared by the club. The affair was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heuple.

The Turn Verein society under the presidency of W. A. Miksch is one of Charleroi's foremost societies. The club house is a very valuable piece of property, finely fitted up throughout. The swimming pool, a recent addition is proving very popular. There are few club houses along the valley which have a pool so well regulated as that owned by the Turners.

Opportunity to Hear Rare Instrument.

Charleroi people will have the opportunity Sunday of hearing a rare old Landoi violin, a very valuable instrument, at the M. E. church. The instrument is the property of Mr. Emory Porterfield, formerly of Charleroi but now of Toledo, Ohio. It is one of a very few of the Landoi instruments throughout the United States and is valued at about one thousand dollars. Mr. Porterfield has been studying music under a foremost master of Toledo.

Will Coulson Make Good?

There is little doubt that "Bob" Coulson, the outfielder whom Charleroi sold recently to Cincinnati will make good as the clippings from two Cincinnati papers will testify. His picture was shown in one and the other published a cartoon of him.

Bob Coulson, who was tried by Manager Gangel in one or two games in the East, made his first appearance before a local audience at Wedman Park on Wednesday. Coulson is a husky chap, fast on his feet, full of ginger and with a good position at bat. He covered a lot of ground on hits into his territory and made one pretty throw from deep center to first base, completing a double play. Coulson will be given a further trial by the Reds before his future is finally decided upon.—Cincinnati Times.

Coulson's hitting was pretty sweet. The lad's three bagger was a ferocious drive over Hummel's head. Coulson is batting .400 in the two games he has played. Coulson took Johnny Kane's place in the center and inhibited plenty of the little fellow's ginger. He hit tremendously, ran bases well and fielded nicely. He looks like a good boy to have around.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The many accidents on railroads resulting from walking on the tracks, prompts the Scranton Times to say that "scarcely a day passes that the local newspapers do not report the death or serious injury of one or more persons while walking railroad tracks. Notwithstanding the slaughter, the many warnings, and the full knowledge of the danger, people will walk the tracks. The indifference of the law makers in not passing more restrictive measures and the railroad authorities in not enforcing the present laws is shameful. Arrests with fine or imprisonment for trespass on railroad property would soon put an end to the slaughter in question. Germany shows what can be done in the matter."

So Wags the World.

Sir Folly goes a-dancing by,
Fun and frolic in his eye.
On his lips a careless lay,
"Ho, Sir Folly! Why so gay?"
Says he,
"I know a woman."

Beggar Wisdom shuffles near,
Downcast eye, no word of cheer,
Rags and tatters, meanly clad,
"Brother Wisdom, why so sad?"
Says he,
"I know a woman."

A Fat Man's Fancy.

If I were an up to date wizard,
I neither would swelter nor moan,
But I'd borrow the breath of a blizzard.

Or ride on a roaring cyclone,
I'd be just as cool as old Nero.
Who added when Rome was on fire,
And I'd fly to the region of zero.
Where the mercury never goes higher.
—New York Globe.

Doesn't Have to Insist Long Usually.
It is learned that one girl's popularity among the other girls is due to the fact that whenever she visits at their house she insists upon washing the dishes.—Arlington Globe.

An immense engine for the new roadway in the mines of the H. C. Frick Coke company arrived at Hecla, Westmoreland County, Monday and is being set up as rapidly as possible. Officials state they expect to have it in working order by the end of next week, and at the beginning of next week the ovens which have been idle for the past ten months will be lighted. The new engine is an immense machine of cast iron and steel. Its efficiency on a roadway has been fully tested and the mine officials are confident that it will be a great means of saving extra labor not only to the company but to the miners as well.
